December 5, 2025

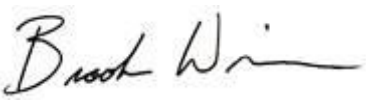
Dear EWG Members,

It has been an honor to serve as co-chair of the Massachusetts Energy Efficiency Advisory Council's Equity Working Group for the past few years alongside Mary Wambui. I would be grateful for the opportunity to continue to serve in this role with your support. During my time as co-chair this group has tackled challenging topics head-on, pushing the Mass Save program administrators to make their programs more equitable and more accessible. I have always approached this work with a collaborative spirit and an eye to improving Mass Save for the people of Massachusetts and the communities I represent on the EEAC. Here's why I'm asking for your support to continue to serve as co-chair of the EWG:

Commitment to equity and justice – First and foremost, I am passionately dedicated to advancing equity and justice in the delivery of our statewide energy efficiency and decarbonization programs. In my seat on the EEAC and as EWG co-chair, I have helped shape more equitable and accessible program design like the new offers for Designated Equity Communities. I have advocated for the establishment of strong equity metrics that allow us to track our progress over time and hold the PAs (and ourselves!) accountable to meeting our goals and delivering what we've planned for. With attacks on equity coming from multiple angles, it is important that we reaffirm our commitment to distributive justice. I would be honored to keep working with you as co-chair as we forge ahead.

Deep connections to program implementation – In my role as the City of Boston's Building Decarbonization Program Manager, I am working every day to make Mass Save's programs more accessible to the people of my home city. This allows me to see firsthand the value of these programs and the challenges that people face in making use of them. I am doing the work of delivering language access, supporting renters and landlords in upgrading their buildings, and connecting small businesses with Mass Save's resources. This on-the-ground experience gives me valuable perspective on how the programs are working and, importantly, how to make them more equitable and more accessible.

Thank you for your consideration and I hope I can count on your support.



Brooks Winner