

Public Comments

5/26/2021

First, I want to commend the hard work done by both EEAC and PAs to prepare the recently submitted draft three-year plan following detailed recommendations from the EEAC. The challenge will be to complete the process and work through difficult details in order to successfully implement the plan.

Second, I want to recognize the recently presented new Mass Save data system that is now available and functioning. It is very impressive, but there are questions:

- To what degree will the new system change or improve the regular reporting by PAs and consultant team on progress made in key areas?
- Can we expect a regular report on the extent to which third parties or outsiders access the system and set up an account, and then to what extent use the system?

We also will need to review the newly-passed and signed Climate Roadmap bill to identify the areas and objectives in the legislation that will require changes or expansion of efforts by the Mass Save program to meet those objectives.

We look forward to working with all parties to work through the challenges and opportunities we face. Thanks for the opportunity to submit these comments.

Stephen Cowell, president
E4TheFuture